Q & A Pearl Harbor Family Housing

Q: Is housing available in the Pearl Harbor vicinity?

A: As homes are vacated and maintenance performed will dictate which homes are available. Current Waiting Times lists expected waits for each housing area. Housing is not restricted to the Pearl Harbor area. Housing areas are available within a 1-hour commuting distance.

Q: How many bedrooms am I eligible for?

A: Your rank and number of dependents will dictate how many bedrooms you are eligible for.

Q: What is a waitlist?

A: Housing areas each have a waitlist. This list is composed of individuals who wish to move into a neighborhood or "Area of Choice". The position you are in is dependent on your control date. Your control date is the date you detached from your last permanent duty station, as long as you apply for housing within 30 days of your arrival. Newer and revitalized neighborhoods are more desirable, thus have longer waitlist than other neighborhoods.

Q: What is TLA?

A: TLA stands for Temporary Lodging Allowance. The intent is to partially reimburse for expenses (temporary lodging and meals) that are incurred while occupying temporary lodging.

Q: How many days am I entitled to Arrival TLA?

A: TLA is contingent on availability of housing. TLA ends the day before occupancy (lease start date) of private market housing, which includes PPV housing, rent or purchase in the community. You will be referred to the PPV Office for offer of housing. If a PPV home is not available or you decline the offer, Housing Counselor will discuss housing search process with you. You will be responsible to conduct an aggressive & diligent housing search. Duration of TLA ends the sooner of: day prior to occupancy, six days after determination that a housing search is inadequate, or 60 days.

Q: Are pets allowed in PPV housing?

A: A maximum of two pets are allowed. Pit bulls and rottweilers are prohibited in PPV housing.

Q: Do the homes have appliances?

A: All PPV homes come with a refrigerator, range and dishwasher. Effective 10/1/13 new occupants are no longer provided a washer/dryer.
