

Key Spouse Connect Meeting Update

13September16

Announcements

- Key Spouse Appreciation Night was 30Sept and we look forward to hearing your feedback! You can email your comments to MFSCHawaii@navy.mil and we'll be sure to share them with the planning committee.
- October is Domestic Violence Awareness Month and will be a very busy! Please check your inbox because you will be receiving flyers with information about classes and events to sign up for. November will be Month of the Military Family.
- The new Key Spouse Calendar for 2017 should be available in November. I will make an announcement when it has been posted.
- Regarding the Connect Meeting for 08 November, based on your feedback, we've decided to dedicate the meeting to KEY SPOUSE BINDERS! If you have any website links or downloads that might help other spouses to prepare, please email them to MFSCHawaii@navy.mil. There will be more updates about this event in October.

Feedback

- Regarding attendance, we welcome your ideas for increasing attendance at these meetings. They are an important time to network, share best practices and receive training. Thank you in advance for your feedback.
- What training would you like to see in 2017? Email MFSCHawaii@navy.mil.
